Intellias Strengths

Strong IT Education

Several local technical universities, possessing the first-class educational reputation, provide students from all over the world with the competitive and up-to-date knowledge. We at Intellias create the best environment to attract and professionally develop experienced, hard-working, reliable and responsible employees.

Experience and Methodology

We combine our on-market experience with implementation of progressive management approaches and information methodologies. The up-to-date management tools and highly qualified employees enable us to develop valuable software solutions and products for our clients and partners.

Quality Assurance

Quality is the main aspect of any outsourced services. Keeping this in mind we developed a system of processes, procedures, guidelines and tools in order to attain the best results and track our product quality. During project's life-cycle different methodologies are utilized to pursue high quality standards. We at Intellias have adopted CMM, ISO and IEEE standards as the basis for the quality of our services, developed document system and client's communication model that constitutes a background for the achievement of the best results.

Understanding and Communication Intelligence

The efficiency of our work ultimately depends on the understanding of the client's needs and development of the most appropriate solution. Being situated in Lviv (also known as Lemberg) – the most international city in Ukraine, only 50 km away from the EU border, we put European mentality together with cultural understanding to make the best of our work and to act as your reliable "nearshore" outsourcing partner.
